Upon completion of this knowledge based program, the participants will be able to:

- Develop infection control protocol for the dental office.
- Describe infection control measures to be taken to protect the health care worker and patient from the danger of Bloodborne pathogens.
- Recognize NC laws concerning infection control.
- Explain the principles of epidemiology, modes of transmissions and the practice of asepsis.
- Describe protective attire, barrier techniques, engineering and work practice controls to reduce the risk of “sharps” injuries.

Speaker

Linda Stewart, CDA, MA, has over 35 years experience in dental education. Her teaching and administrative experience included appointments in both community college and university settings. She joined Total Medical Compliance in 2010 after retiring from the position of Risk Manager at the University of North Carolina School Of Dentistry. Her responsibilities included developing, implementing and evaluating institutional policies on infection control, exposure incidents and safety. As a patient advocate, she also served as the liaison with the institution’s malpractice carrier. Linda received her bachelor’s degree in Dental Auxiliary Education from the University of North Carolina in 1973 and completed a Master of Arts in Curriculum and Instruction from the University of North Carolina in 1986. While serving as a faculty member at the UNC School of Dentistry, Linda was active in presenting continuing education programs on the local, state and national levels. In 2009 Linda spoke on Risk Management to the British Dental Association at their annual session in Glasgow, Scotland. Linda is an ideal candidate to provide employee safety training. Her experience at the corporate level and chair side delivering care provide her the unique ability to identify safety issues in the outpatient environment.
