

Community Health Worker Supervisor Training Q&A

Tuesday, January 28, 2025 • 11:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. • Live Webinar

Target Audience

Community Health Worker (CHW) Supervisors and those interested in becoming CHW Supervisors.

Description

Curious about how to empower your role as a CHW Supervisor? Join our live Q&A session to explore what our CHW Supervisor Training offers! Led by Abdul Hafeedh bin Abdullah and Rumana Shams Rabbani, this session will give you a sneak peek into the core topics of effective leadership, cultural humility, and strategic tools for supervisors. Discover how this course can enhance your skills, benefit your team, and support your community. Come with your questions and leave inspired to take your leadership to the next level!

The CHW supervisor training is provided by CHASM in partnership with SR-AHEC and supported by the North Carolina Community Health Worker Association (NCCHWA). Furthermore, this training aligns with the competencies required for NCCHWA's Advanced Certification levels addressing factors across the Socioecological Model. The training ensures that CHW supervisors are equipped to lead at individual, interpersonal, organizational, and community levels (up to Level III). The training covers critical topics, including relationship-building, power dynamics, systems thinking, and leadership strategies, all delivered through engaging popular education methods.

Objectives

Participants gain the skills to:

- Optimize CHW roles within health systems
- Create inclusive spaces for CHWs and care teams
- Promote leadership practices that support CHW integration

- Describe CHW roles and their impact on health equity
- Apply systems thinking tools to address healthcare gaps
